

Subject	Bilingual Reading	Bilingual Writing	Math	Science	Social Studies
Ideas students are learning	Students will develop emergent literacy skills through a variety of activities in Spanish, which will promote second language acquisition.	Students will develop an understanding that print conveys meaning in every language and is a way to communicate.	The students will develop the skill of recognizing same & different, sorting and classification	Safety is important in the classroom and at home. Healthy living includes good nutrition and frequent exercise. Good hygiene should be practiced daily.	Students will learn about friends, school, home and family.
Skills	Students will acquire emergent literacy skills such as phonological awareness and letter knowledge.	Students will learn how to express their thoughts and words on paper in Spanish.	Students sorts objects that are same and different into groups and uses language to describe how the groups are similar and different.	Students will be observing and gathering information using simple tools.	Students will learn and practice classroom social skills, such as sharing ideas orally, listening to others, and following classroom procedures.
Work and assignments to look for	Students will recognize letter symbols, recognize letter sounds, make letter to sound connections.	Students will write and illustrate for a variety of purposes as they make connections with the world around them.	Student will organize objects with a common attribute.	The student will sort objects.	Students will create a classroom chart titled " My Family"
Questions Parents Can Ask	What letter makes this ___ sound? What letter sound do you hear at the beginning of the word ___?	What did you write about today? Why did you write about that? What do you like the most about the story you wrote?	How are these same and different? Why did you put all these together? Why did you put these here?	Why is it important for us to wash our hands? Which foods are healthy for our bodies. How are we safe at home.	How do family members help each other?
Special Notes	Young students that learn to read in their native language will be more successful learning a English as second language.	Young children will write in a variety of ways through pretend play, such as making lists, taking orders, making labels, and writing notes.	Young students are naturally interested in mathematical concepts. (He/she has moor than me)	Young students need repetition to learn information. Continued practice at home is imperative to learning.	Your child will explore social studies concepts through activities like read alouds, music, movement, and puppetry.

PARENT A GLANCE

Find out what your child is learning and how to help.

Subject	Physical Activity	Music and Movement
Ideas students are learning	Students will learn to work cooperatively in a group.	Students will respond to different musical styles through movement and play.
Skills	Students will develop greater control of basic locomotor skills.	Students will follow the beat using body and musical instruments (walks or jumps to the beat).
Work and assignments to look for	Students will practice running, jumping, hopping and galloping at home and school.	Students will sing along to finger plays such as "The Wheels on the Bus"
Questions Parents Can Ask	Can you run over there before I count to 10? Can you show me how high you can jump? Can you jump over those stuffed animals without touching them?	Can you sing me your favorite song? Can you show me your favorite dance?
Special Notes	Student learning is directly related to mobility and motor skills.	Students singing encourages oral language development. Students physical movement strengthens gross-motor muscle.			