Dear Parents/Guardians:

Your child may be tempted to visit the local outside vendors after school, especially Whataburger, Taco Bell or the Shell Station. The staff and I have tried to explain that if he/she should miss the bus, it is not our responsibility to provide alternative transportation home.

After the 3:35 p.m. bell there may be a 20-30 minute lapse before the buses arrive: however, students who have permission to visit outside vendors and choose to do so, visit the outside vendors at their own risk. The outside vendors are not monitored by school employees.

If you give your child permission to go to outside vendors after school, please complete the form at the bottom of the page and return it to the main office. Please know that if your child misses the bus, it is not the responsibility of the school or Fort Worth ISD to provide an alternative ride home, nor will we make the bus wait for your child to return from one of the vendors.

Sincerely,

Troy Langston
